COURTESY OF OUR INDUSTRY RELATIONS TEAM

Maurice R. Greenberg, the executive who built American International Group into a global insurance powerhouse and shaped an entire industry during nearly 40 years at the company's helm, stepped down as chief executive March 14th after a series of run-ins with regulators raised questions about its complex and often obscure operations.

His exit came after lengthy discussions by the company's directors in recent days and appeared intended to avert a head-on collision with two regulators: the Securities and Exchange Commission and Eliot Spitzer, the New York attorney general.

Mr. Greenberg had been scheduled to appear for a deposition in Mr. Spitzer's office on Thursday to answer questions about a transaction that regulators say may have artificially bolstered the company's financial position, according to a person briefed on the matter. Worries about his testimony may have driven the board to act. Mr. Greenberg will stay on as chairman of AIG for the time being.

LUCKY STRIKE

INTERN SPOTLIGHT—TIM REGAN

Timothy Regan is a senior Risk Management Major expecting to graduate in May of this year. Tim has been an active member of the Sigma Chapter since the Fall of 2003 and has served as Director of Membership Development and Director of Professional Development during his time with us.

Tim's summer internship was with Mercer Human Resources Consulting in Newport Beach, California (yes, that's right—California). Tim worked in the Health and Welfare department where he spent most of his time organizing client data in excel worksheets.

Tim readily accepted the constructive criticism he received on his projects at Mercer and he learned the importance of paying attention to detail. However, he will all-too-eagerly admit that his favorite thing about the experience was spending his free time on the sunny beaches of California.

Feel free to email Tim with any questions about his internship at timmyregan@hotmail.com.
