ASK PHILIO AND MOGG

Philio and Mogg are your local friendly experts on every subject, available to answer those questions that keep you up at night. If you have a question to submit, please e-mail us at pstefano@temple.edu or mogg@temple.edu and keep an eye out for the answer in the next issue of Risky Business!

Q: I have heard that you guys [Philio and Mogg] have opened a martial arts school with a focus on jujitsu and Indian burns... any comments?

P&M: First and foremost, congrats on keeping updated about all possible areas of continuing education. The first thing that we did was obviously to purchase insurance specified for martial arts schools and tournaments (we encourage tournament style violence among our students and would like that covered...). To obtain proper coverage students must sign a waiver and certain limitations have been placed on our book of business. We will only be able to operate in America and Puerto Rico. Also, different styles of combat require other coverage plans and we will most likely not offer such courses (e.g. boxing, Thai kickboxing, and savate).

TOP 10 LIST O' THE WEEK

Top 10 Ways to Prepare for the Actuarial Science Internship Fair

10. You should never underestimated the importance of flossing
9. A folder with Garfield is not a good idea for a portfolio
8. You may be left-handed, but always shake with the right
7. Look to graduating seniors for last minute words of wisdom
6. If you're nervous, picture the interviewer in their underwear
5. Try to be the first person there and last person there to take advantage of small crowds
4. The tables are round... don't insist sitting at the corner
3. A hoodie is not formal wear for an internship fair either
2. Say it, don't spray it
1. With all the wonderful professional development opportunities along the road to the resume book, your internship possibilities should be absolutely fabulous!

MEET THE OFFICERS

JOE PIZZA—As you can tell we seem to be running low on events for the remaining portion of the semester and need a space to fill... Joe is just that kind of guy. Having a great deal of time between professional development workshops, our members have loved attending the social events that Mr. Pizza has planned thus far for us this semester. Whether it was his arrangement at Club FLOW (where he was also able to have Q102 attend) or his midnight cruises on the Spirit of Philadelphia, Joe comes up with the surefire answer to your dating worries. Joe has already began work on the highly-anticipated Annual Gamma dinner and promises to make this year almost as good as the last. If you have an idea for a future Gamma social, you can contact Joe at: jpizza@temple.edu

ACTUARIAL SCIENCE INTERNSHIP RE-

The moment you've been waiting for is just weeks away! And you thought it was all a rumor! No, you too, dear Act Sci major, can have an internship this summer. How, you say? By networking with the best of them at this year's Actuarial Science Internship Reception, to be held Friday, December 12, 2003 in the President's Room of the Diamond Club at 1pm. Attending companies will be posted on Blackboard that week, so read up on them and figure out which one of the many dream-jobs is the job of YOUR dreams! If you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact our Industry Relations team of Jon Wong (jwong001@temple.edu) or George Pristatsky (georgik1@hotmail.com). Schmooze On!

MEET THE OFFICERS

MARY AARONSON— There's something about Mary... Mary is in her maiden voyage as a Gamma Office. Her role as the Director of Alumni Affairs has Mary planning socials for all the ancient Gammeees of the past. An affinity for trees,

Mary spends much of her time as an environmentalist when she's not making hoagies at Wawa. With the double-A in Aaronson, Mary is sure to be at the top of the class roster as she is number one in our hearts. Her birthday is on December 7, a day that will forever live in infamy. Although her boyfriend buys her plenty of presents, she'll gladly take another if you're out shopping...

WHAT DO I DO OVER WINTER WITHOUT GAMMA???

The rapidly approaching Winter Break is upon us. With that comes the graduation of some, and a hopeful one semester less for the rest of us. The end of the semester also signifies the losing of some Gamma members with the promise to add more next semester. We here at the Sigma Chapter encourage you to more than anything enjoy this well earned opportunity of rest. In your free time we also encourage taking strides to keep up on current insurance related issues, along with pertinent news in the business community overall. Feel free to keep in touch with us about any concerns that you may have in regards to your professional development over the break... while classes may end, the Sigma Chapter never closes! The officers will be working hard over break to plan next semester's events, so please don't hesitate to contact us with any ideas that you may have. Happy Holidays!!
