Student Engagement Program Eligible

Friday, February 20, 2015, 12 PM-12:50 PM

Alter 035

Sean Pena, ASA, MAAA, who graduated from our actuarial science program in 2007, will be conducting this workshop. Sean works at Towers Watson where he is a Senior Analyst. He will give a tutorial on actuarial software and provide examples of real-life client projects. Many companies use various actuarial software, so it is imperative that students become familiar with the software that is used in the industry. Hearing about the client projects that Sean has worked on will give members an idea of how actuaries contribute to a consulting company, such as Towers Watson.
